LOCAL MISCELLANY.

READY FOR WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY. READY FOR WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

The observance of Washington's Birthday in the way of club dinners, receptions, badls and other forms of amnsement to-day will be more general than usual. As on other legal holidays, public buildings, exchanges, places of business and workshops will be closed. If the day is fair ambitious young men will strain themselves in athletic contests, and members of one or two clubs will risk their necks in a hare and hound chase across the fields. Extra performances will be given in all of the theatres. The time-houored custom of housting the stars and stripes at the old fort in Central Park will be observed. Adjutant Warner will pull the string. In addition to the public entertainments that have been announced to take place, many will seek diversion in dinner parties, private theatricals and other home amnsements.

Among the receptions to be held is that of the Washington Club at its club rooms in East Twelfthers, this evening. Mayor Grace and other well-known men are expected to be present. The annual dinner of the Arcadian Club will also take place at Martinelli's in the evening. Lawrence Barrett will be one of the guests. At the new Mount St. Vin-

St., this evening. Mayor Grace and other well-known men are expected to be present. The annual dinner of the Arcadian Club will also take place at Martinelli's in the evening. Lawrence Barrett will be one of the guests. At the new Mount St. Vincent Hotel, at St. Nicholas-ave, and One-hundred-and-forty-seventh st., the Washington Heights Century Club will ceiebrate the day with its annual cunner. One of the incidents of the day will be the Washington's Birthday Reception of the Teachers' Association at Stemway Hall. This entertainment is given each year and is attended mainly by teachers and their friends. The programme for this evening will consist of vocal and instrumental music and dramatic readings and impersonations. The students of the Cooper Union will celebrate the day in their usual fashion in the hall of the Union at 8 o'clock. The exercises will be varied. An oratorical contest for the Byrnes Gold Medal will take place in the afternoon at Manhattan College.

The forty-ninth annual reception of the Washington Light Battery, Battery E. N. G. S. N. Y., will be held in the evening at the Lexington Avenue Opera House. A competitive section drill will begin at 8 o'clock. Prizes to the value of $250 will be distributed to the successful competitors. The music will be furnished by the Seventh Regiment Band under the direction of C. A. Cappa. Among those who will be present are tieneral Shaler and his staff, several of the members of the Governor's staff, and officers of the various divisions, brigades, and regiments of the National Guard. The Veterans of 1812 will be entertained at Military Hall, in Third-ave., by Pahlgren Fost No. 113, G. A. R. Binner will be served at 12:30 in Walhalla Hall. It is intended to have as many of the veterans present as are able to attend. At 1 o'clock the annual celebration of the Conpetitors will give their annual dinner at Hotel Monico in the evening. A chase has been arranged by the Westchester Hare and Hound Club. The start will take place at the Harlem Athletic Club rooms

THE EMIGRATION BOARD WRANGLING.

THE EMBGRATION BOARD WARACHTER.

The Commissioners of Emigration, at their annual meeting vesterday, spent the first half hour wrangling over an objection to the minutes made by Mr. Ulrich, that Secretary Jackson had failed to report fully the proceedings of the last meeting in relation to a report made by Mr. Ulrich that Mr. Lynch had told Senator Treanor to withhold an appropriation hill.

relation to a report made by Mr. Ulrich that Mr. Lynch had told Senator Treanor to withhold an appropriation bill.

Mr. Stephenson, as chairman of the Ward's Island Committee, asked as to the financial condition of the Board. He was informed that there was only sufficient money to pay about one half of the salaries for February. Mr. Stephenson then said he had a requisition for provisions and clothing for Ward's Island, but would not sign it until the Commission had secured an appropriation. Mr. Hurlhut said that the Board was now entirely without money to pay its current expenses. The Governor had recommended in his annual message an additional appropriation of $40,000. This proposition was now pending in the Legislature. He suggested that the Commissioners should go to Albany and arge the immediate passage of the bill. A resolution was passed prohibiting railroad agents from paying, directly of indirectly, any commissions to employes at Castle Garden for the sale of tickels. W. H. Macpherson, who has been interpreter at the Garden for eight years, for acting as a frailroad "runner," was dismissed. Mr. Ulrich then moved to abolish the Castle Garden for the moved to abolish the Castle Garden Committee, as it had been ignored and insulted.

Mr. Lynch opposed the resolution and it was lost. Mr. Hauselt said that numerous cases of lost baggage at Castle Garden had been brought to his attention, and he wanted to know if Bernard Eighin was responsible for the carclessness of his employes. It was resolved to appeal from the decision of Judge Blatchford to the United States Supreme Court in r gard to the State inspection law. Mr. Ulrich effered the following resolution:

Whereas, The Commissioners of Emigration are now

whereas, the Commissioners of the State of t erring certain powers and duties on these

The resolution was lost, It was reported that the wall on the north side of the Garden is in a dangerous condition, and it is to be repaired. Mr. Hurlbut was elected president of the Board.

JENNIE WESTBROOK IN TWO COURTS.

JENNIE WESTBROOK IN TWO COURTS.

Jennie Westbrook, or Francis de Nyse, as she sometimes calls herself, who was arrested recently and committed by Police Justice Smith to the Penitentiary for six months for appearing publicly in a man's clothes, was taken yesterday before Justice Donohae, in the Supreme Court, Chambers, on a writ of habeas corpus. Every available foot of space in the court-toom was occupied by men and boys who had assembled to watch the progress of the case and perhaps to get a glimpse of a woman dressed in trousers. The woman wore a small soft hat; but along ulster left the public in dire uncertainty on the question of the trousers. Justice Donohue at first denied that he had any jurisdiction in the case, as the Court of Oyer and Terminer was in session. Justice Barrett, who was holding that court, however, directed that the case should be heard before Justice Donohue. The woman's discharge was demanded on the ground that she had been committed to prison on a charge which, if true, was no offence known to the law. Mr. Brady, who represented Police Justice Smith, admitted that there was something a little irregular in committing a person to prison for doing what the law did not prohibit, but argued that the prisoner ought not to be discharged on that account, out should be sent again before Justice Smith to answer to some matter that would be an offence against the law. Justice Donohae ordered the woman to be discharged from the commitment of Justice Smith. She was immediately rearrested on a new warrant, issued by Justice Smith, charging her with vagrancy, and taken before Justice Power at the Tombs Police Court. Her lawyer asked for her immediate discharge on the ground that she could not be tried twice for the same offence. The motion was denied, and the prisoner was sent back to the Tombs to await examination on Thursday afternoon. A Mr. Partridge who had offered to become her bondsman was not present, to give the neccessary bonds. sary bonds.

THE VALUE OF VACCINATION. Sanitary Superintendent Day yesterday presented to the Board of Health, to be placed on tile, the fol-lowing statement in regard to the value of vacci-lowing statement in regard to the value of vaccination:

In view of the efforts recently made to throw doubt upon the efficacy of vaccination as a preventive of smallpox, I beg leave to submit the following report of observations made at Riverside Hospital, the statistics of which have been carefully compiled by Drs. Most and Chapin, physicians in daily attendance:

During the menth of January, 1882, there were admitted to the hospital 166 cases of smallpox in various degrees of severity. During the same period 48 deaths occurred in the institution. Taking no note of the number remaining in the hospital at the beginning or at the end of the month, we find the ratio of deaths to admissions was 28.92 per cent. Of the 166 patients, 85 (51.2 per cent) had been vaccinated, and of 3 (1.8 per cent) no history in regard to vaccination was obtained. Of the 48 persons who died only one had been vaccination, and of 3 (1.8 per cent) no history in regard to prevent and the prevent of the confidential of Thagic.

With such statistics derived from our daily experience, with such statistics derived from our daily experience, it seems to me unnecessary to quote figures from the past history of smallpox and vaccination to prove what has been repeatedly shown regarding the efficacy of vaccination.

BUSINESS EMBARRASSMENTS.

Clinton H. Smith, doing business under the name of Clinton H. Smith & Co., manufacturers of collars, cufis and rufflings at Nos. 489 to 493 Broomest, made an assignment yesterday to John Gaalt Bmith, of Smith, Churchill & Scribner, giving preferences for $118,321 08. The failure is attributed to the sudden stoppage, without notice, of banking facilities for accommodation, drafts for about $10,000 having gone to protest at Dunkirk, N. Y. Mr. Smith's father-in-law was president of a bank at Dunkirk, and accommodated him with money by honoring his drafts. He died about a year ago, but the bank continued the accommodation until last week. The total liabilities are estimated from $135,000 to $140,000. The assets have not yet been determined.

but the firm claimed a nominal surplus of $30,000. There is a large stock of manufactured goods in hand made up for the spring trade, and the outstanding accounts are about $40,000.

Mary Diehlman, a manufacturer of piano cases at Nos. 547 to 559 West Twenty-first-st, made an assignment yesterday to Isaae J. Cole. Charles F. Diehlman, her husband, died on January 14, and she continued the business up to the 11th inst., when the factory was burned down. A meeting of creditors was held yesterday, when it appeared that the liabilities were about $40,000. The creditors proposed to take the insurance money, pay the debts and give her $5,000. This she refused and the assignment followed.

MOURNING OVER HIS LOST BREASTPIN,

MOURNING OVER HIS LOST BREASTPIN,
Alexander Taylor, jr., the well-known stock broker and vachtsman, advertised yesterday the loss of a double horseshoe breastpin set with diamonds, sapphires and rubies, and marked. "Larry to Aleck." He offered a liberal reward. "To a Trin-CNE reporter, who asked what the inscription meant, he said that the pin was given to him by "Larry" Jerome. The two are very intimate, and both are very fond of practical jokes. Last August Chester Griswold, Henry Leavitt, Mr. Jerome and Mr. Taylor were at Vineyard Haven, Mass., commonly known as Holmes's Hole, Mr. Jerome asked Mr. Taylor to go fishing, but the latter declined. There was a good deal of banter about it, but Mr. Taylor still refused to go and Mr. Jerome vowed that he would "fix" him for it. More chaff followed, and a bet was finally made that Taylor would be forced to admit before the day was over that Jerome had "got even" with him. The effort to "fix him" resulted in a vasit by Jerome to the shore and his return with a boat-load of angular and ancient maidens and bouncing widows of from forty to fifty years of age, whom Jerome had succeeded in convincing that the owner of the Skylark was a very rich and very eccentric man who was possessed of an insane passion to marry immediately a well-matured daughter of Massachusetts. There was a lively scene on shipboard, but Mr. Taylor bore the ordeal so gracefully and bravely that Mr. Jerome was forced to confess himself beaten. The breastpin followed, as did later a dimer at the Turf Club, given by Mr. Jerome and Chester Griswold to Mr. Taylor. At this dinner John Hoey, William B. Dinsmore, John McCullough, William J. Florence and others well known on the street and on the stage, were present, and it was anything but dall.

Mr. Taylor is greatly grieved over the loss of the pin. He prizes it as one of his most cherished possessions, and admits that he will be inconsolable until he gets it back. And, as he has not the least idea when, where or how he lost it, he is inclined to suspect

IN MEMORY OF JOSEPH E. SHEFFIELD. A meeting of the graduates of the Sheffleld Scientific School was held yesterday afternoon, at No. 37 Wall-st, to take action in regard to the death of Joseph E. Sheffield. J. B. Gardner, class of 68, was chosen chairman of the meeting. The following letter from Clarence King was received and read: read: New-York, Peb. 21, 1882.

To the Chairman and Members of the Sheffield Memorial

Meeting:

Although unable to be present at the meeting of graduates of the Sheffield Scientific School, gathered to-day to offer grateful reverence to the memory of our common benefactor, the late Joseph E. Sheffield, I cannot yermit the occasion to pass without expressing my profound sympathy with the object for which you are assembled. The age and Nation in which we live offer a sharp and lamentable contrast with older civilizations in the absence of reverence and love for the unseen benefactors of the past. For us, the heroes and marryrs whose struggle and death have made possible our modern measure of noral and personal freedom, exist only as dead names embalmed in the great tomb of literature, or, at best, as more or less familiar figures outlined among countless others on the fading canvas of history.

The modern by an remembers!

The modern brain remembers! The modern heart forgets!

The modern brain remembers!

The modern heart forgets!

Every one of us will carry to the end of life the memory of a venerable personage passing with the measured step of ripening age under the clus of Yale, and none of us can ever forget the face of our benefactor, with its expression of benevolent peace. It was our rare privilege to know the heart which offered and to grasp the hand which gave us the invaluable privilege of scientific education. With us, the brain remembers and the heart throbs again with its old pulse of gratitude. Year by year, companies of young men will have their intellectual vision opened to the certainty and majesty of the laws of nature in the school which he founded, but it will not be theirs to see the kindly face of their benefactor. Over that gentle picture the curiam of death is forever drawn.

We, of to-day, have, as it seems to me, two plain duties: First—To express to the bereaved family of Mr. Sheffeld our gratifude for his benefits to us and our living appreciation of his example in devoting the fruits of honorable toil to the generous endowment of a wise institution of learning.

Second—That we should make an enduring memorial honorable tol to the generous institution of learning.

Second—That we should make an enduring memorial which shall express to all future scholars of the Sheffield Scientific School the feelings toward, its liberal founder of these who knew him personally, to the end that his memory may be honored and loved. Truly yours, CLARENCE KING.

CLARENCE KING.

Clarence King, H. I. Tiffany and J. A. Macdonald were appointed a committee to draw up resolutions expressing the sympathy of the meeting with the family of Mr. Sheffield. After considerable discussion in regard to the memorial, the chairman was authorized to appoint a committee to solicit subscriptions for one. A committee will also be appointed to decide what the character of it shall be, and where it shall be located. These committees will report at a future meeting of the graduates.

SCARCITY OF FISH IN THE MARKETS.

The storm of yesterday cast a blight over the opes of the fish dealers, who have been calculating The storm of yesterday cast a blight over the hopes of the fish dealers, who have been calculating on a large business in consequence of the approach of the Lenten season. The weather has been so bad that even the bold fishermen have had to seek the sechsion which the harbor granted. In consequence, dealers say there will be few fish and high prices during the last of the week. A load of halibut reached this city yesterday from Georgia's Banks; there were 250 averaging seventy-five pounds apiece. These were all soid at wholesale with heads and tails on, at 16 cents a pound, Lobsters are unusually scarce, and while they aow self at 12 cents a pound an advance is predicted. Smelts are abundant and the only fish with which the market seems well supplied. Shad are coming in slowly from the South. Those from Savannah bring 75 cents each; North Carolina shad are $2 cach. Binefish, usually so abundant, self at 18 cents a pound. There is a great demand for terrapin, The "diamond-backs," from seven to eight inches in length, self at $60 a dozen. Green turtles are scarce and expensive.

DETERMINED 10 DIE.

Avellino Eduardo fu Rafiaelle, an unmarried Italian, thirty-two years old, came to this city from Naples about ten days ago, and took lodgings at No. 55 Spring-st. He had worked at glove-making in Naples and he tried to get work here, but was not successful. At 11 a. m. yesterday he attempted to commit sucide by cutting his throat with a razor. He made several gashes in his neck, before he was discovered bleeding in his room. The police sent him to the St. Vincent's Hospital, where it was said his wounds were serious but not necessarily fatal. Raflaelle had told his friends at No. 55 Spring-st, that he had been obliged to leave Italy, because of the treachery of one of his brothers, who had ruined him and had blackened his reputation. The police found in the Italian's room a trunk filled with clothing, a large revolver unloaded, the bloody razor, and an unscaled letter written in Italian without address or signature. Following is a translation of the note:

The fault of my self-murder lies with my brother, Louigi. I wish my friend Dimaso to send the articles in my trunk to my brother, Alesandro, in Naples. The things are to be given to the daughter of the woman who did ironing for me. You had $7 to pay my board in advance, and if there is anything loft over, let it go toward sending the trunk to Italy. Many regards to you and all the friends. God forgive these who have tried to rule me.

Raffaele's trunk.

A similar attempt at suicide with a razor was made yesterday by Henry Leurch, a German tailor, who occupied a furnished room at No. 152 Forsythst. He was thirty years old and unmarried. He did not succeed in injuring himself seriously. The police sent him to the Chambers Street Hospital.

Patrick Reilly, a Irishman, seventy-one years old, tried to kill himself yesterday morning in his rooms on the second floor of No. 304 Mctt-st., by taking a quantity of Paris green. He had been despondent for some time on account of the death of his wife. A physician of the Sanitary Eureau was sent from Police Headquarters to attend Reilly, and an antidote was administered. The old man afterward refused to go to a hospital. It was thought that he would recover.

A NEW PRIMARY ORDERED.

The Republican Central Committee met last evening at its headquarters in West Thirty-third-st. William A. Darling offered a series of resolutions expressive of the regret of the members of the committee at the death of their late fellow member, Seymour A. Bunce. It was resolved that the primary election for the XIIth Assembly District should be held on March 12. The standing committees for the year were announced.

A GOOD REASON WHY A WILL WAS NOT VALID.
Surrogate Rollins revoked yesterday, the probate of the will of Emma Sutters. It appeared from the testimony in the case that the alleged will was excented a few minutes later than the law has ever allowed the execution of a will to take place, the alleged testatrix being already dead. CONTRACTING FOR A NEW SMALLFOX HOSPITAL.
The Board of Health yesterday opened bids for the erection of a new smallpox hospital on North Brothers' Island. The lowest bid was made by Mahoney & Brother, builders, and the contract for the work was awarded to them at $66,506. The hospital is expected to be a model building.

Inquiry made of several conductors on the Madi-sen-ave, street cars showed that in spire of all the complaints which have been made of late in regard to overcrowding the managers seem to have paid no attention to the matter. "What we need," said they, "is more cars; we haven't half enough."

DEMURRING TO AN INDICTMENT.

Conductor George F. Hanford and brakeman George Melius were taken before Recorder Smyth, in the Court of General Sessions, yesterday morning, but their trial was adjourned by consent to the first Monday in March. A BUILDING WITH A DANGEROUS FLUE.

An anonymous letter was sent to the Board of Health recently, stating that there was a dangerous flue in the building at No. 150 Broadway. Some of the offices in the building, it was stated, were filled with gas at times, and the occupants were afraid of a disastrous fire. Sanitary Inspector R. S. Tracy examined the building complained of, and he reported yesterday that the flue appeared to be dangerous. On his recommendation information of the complaint was sent to the Fire Department.

J. H. Strausburg, at the Willet Street M. E. Church. On February 16, 1881, he was married to Miss Maggie Lyons by the same minister and in the same church. The last Mrs. Ryan, after hving with Ryan for a few months, left hun, and he went back to Mrs. Ryan number one. Ryan was held for trial in $1,000 bail.

THE CONDITION OF THE SHILOH SHELTER.

Renewed applications having been made to the Board of Health for the respenning of the old church at Prince and Marion-sts., known as the "Shiloh Shelter," and formerly a cheap lodging-house for vagrants, Sanutary Superintendent Day yesterday made a report based on a personal examination of the place. The Superintendent expressed the opinion that the church should not be reopened unless it was thoroughly overhauled, cleaned and repainted, and that no more than 150 persons should be allowed to sleep in it at one time.

FILLING UP THE BAY WITH MUD. THE CONDITION OF THE SHILOH SHELTER.

Inspector Conway, in his report to the Pilot Commissioners yesterday, stated that at 7:30 p. m. on Wednesday he detected two scows with 800 cubic yards of mud, in tow of the tug Talisman, dumping in the main ship channel. The contractors, J. W. Ambrose & Co., employing these scows, are excavating in Gowanus Bay, under the supervision of General John Newton. Proceedings will be begun to recover damages. A letter from Collector Robertson stated that the Sandy Hook pilots were not subject to the Marine Hospital tax.

PLUMBERS AND THE BOARD OF HEALTH.
Several journeymen plumbers appeared before the Board of Health yesterday to give their views relative to the registration of plumbers. They asked the Board to provide for some system of examination in order to prevent any ignorant or impractical plumbers from registering, and to issue licenses to those plumbers who were allowed to register; and they wished information as to the right of journeymen to employ apprentices under the law. President Chandler said the Board was considering the question of examinations, and that the question of issuing certificates would come before the Board at a future meeting. He thought the journeymen would be allowed to employ apprentices.

Mrs. Bessie Darling, the actress, was a defendant in the Ninth District Civil Court, and a complainant in the Harlem Police Court yesterday. In the Civil Court, before Justice McGowan, she was sued by two of her servants, Mary Carroll and Lucy Woodson. The former asserted that she owned a trunk, which Mrs. Darling had retained, and the latter sued for wages. Mary Carroll obtained a verifict, but Lucy Woodson was nonsuited. When the civil suits had been decided, Mrs. Darling caused the arrest of the latter on a charge of being concerned in the robbery of her diamonds on January 4. Mrs. Darling, however, by advice of her counsel, withdrew the complaint, and the case was dismissed.

George Dorenus, alias Weiler, and John Lamb, were each held for trial on Monday in the Hariem Police Court, for stealing an overcoat from the house at No. 423 East One-hundred-and-twenty-fourth-st. While in a cell in the Hariem Jail, they were overheard talking about two women with whom they lived at No. 6 Bleecker-st. Yesterday morning Detectives Smith and Thompson went to the house and arrested Laura Richardson, age nine-teen, and Lavinia Cordick, age eighteen. In the rooms the officers found several pawn-tickets and a bank-book belonging to William Best, of No. 154 East Seventy-fourth-st. In the Harlem Police Courtyesterday, the bank-book was identified by Mr. Best as a part of some property that was stolen from his house a few weeks ago. Doreous and Lamb have also been identified as the persons who broke into Goeller's real estate office on Friday night and stole $500. The case will come up for examination this morning. BROOKLYN.

The "Anti-Bobtail Car Association" met at Schindler's Hall, in the Eastern District, last night. Several reports were read, and the meeting was a journed until Tuesday next, to await the action of the special committee of the Common Council, before which the "bobtail" car question will be argued on Friday. The association considers that it has won a victory, as large cars are being used on different lines as fast as possible; it meets now as an "army of observation," to see that the car company does not recede from its promises. pany does not recede from its promises, JERSEY CITY.

Mrs. Alice Keiller, of Jersey City, a member of the Emma Abbott opera troupe, was granted a decree of divorce on Monday from her husband, David T. Keiller, by Vice-Chancellor Dodd, on the ground of describen and adultery. Keiller was well known in Jersey City, having been a prominent member and at one time an officer of the Hudson County Caledonian Club. He was employed in the Department of Docks in New-York as a draughtsman under General McClellan. About three or four years ago he began to lead a double life, spending half his time with Mrs. Hattie Hewitt in New-York, and the other half with his wife in Jersey City, excusing his frequent absence from home on the plea of urgent business. About a year ago he was employed to assist in surveying the route of a new radroad in Ohio, and he took his mistress there with him, deserting his wife entirely. Mrs. Keiller secured an engagement with the Abbott troupe, and then applied for the diverce which she has just obtained.
